CITY TRUSTEES

An Uneventful Evening

All members present except Mr. White. In reference to Brand boulevard proceedings, the city attorney reported the Interlocutory decree granted and the bill of costs filed. Assessment list will now be made out. The manager of lighting department reported that on Saturday the city had taken over that portion of the Glendale Light & Power company's plant in recently annexed territory on the west, and also the remainder of the plant in the North Glendale and Casa Verdugo sections as per agreement. Further that practically everything on the west side within the city will form an ornamental lighting system. The manager requested the purchase of a motorcycle for his department, also an addressing machine. He was authorized to purchase them. The supply committee reported on prices of chairs for trustees and the lobby, cost of the former from $5 to $6 and of the latter about $2 in groups of five. Authority given to purchase the latter. The finance committee reported that pamphlets purchased by the city could not be placed in the Los Angeles chamber of commerce and that matter was laid over. A protest was filed against a soap factory on Isabel street and that was referred to committee for investigation. A communication was received from Andrews and Frazar for permit to conduct a bowling alley and shooting gallery. Permit was granted on condition that it be a box-ball alley, the place to be closed at 10:30 p. m. and all day Sunday and comply with all ordinances hereafter to be passed. A petition to prohibit heavy teaming on First street was referred to the street superintendent. The ordinance granting franchise to E. D. Goode was referred to city attorney. The health officer recommended that the Verdugo Pipe and Reservoir company be required to comply with ordinance and have reservoir covered. The clerk was instructed to notify supervisors of the annexation to Glendale of certain territory and call attention to fact that road money is due the city. Action requiring bond of street superintendent was rescinded. An ordinance establishing grade of Vine street passed first and second readings.

A PLEASANT SURPRISE

While the members of Glendale lodge were in session on Monday evening, mysterious noises were heard in their new reception rooms in the front part of the building. Upon investigating it was found that members of Carnation Rebekah Lodge had been there and with deft fingers had very tastefully decorated the rooms and straightened things up in general. When lodge closed for the evening and the members wended their way out past the banquet rooms there was some mysterious odor. Instead of sounds behind the doors, which were opened to them and a very tempting lunch of hot coffee, etc., disclosed. All members present did ample justice to the repast and expressed full appreciation.

COUNTY TAXES.

The second installment of county taxes becomes delinquent Monday next, the 29th. Five per cent added after that time. Payment to be made in office of the tax collector in the new Hall of Records.

DEATHS.

James M. Spear died at the Clara Barton Hospital Monday, as the result of shock resulting from a surgical operation. He resided on Wilkinson Court, Trojito. Funeral services were held at 11 o'clock Thursday. Interment at Sunset Lawn.

Mrs. Phoebe Lawless, mother of E. V. Moore, at 1252 Cypress avenue, Trojito, died April 26. The body was sent to Anaheim for burial.

DEATH OF MRS. BURFORD.

Mrs. Winnie Burford, wife of W. W. Burford of 740 Glendale avenue, died at her home last Monday, and was buried Tuesday at 11 a. m., services being held at the Catholic Church, and interment taking place at the New Calvary Cemetery in Los Angeles. Mrs. Burford was 39 years of age, and died of cancer, from which she had suffered greatly during the past year. The following pallbearers were in attendance: A. W. Randolph, Wilnot Pacher, G. B. Woodberry, J. N. Witham.

GONE TO HER REST.

On the morning of April 22 at 4 a. m., a well-known good woman of Glendale passed into her long rest. The many friends of Mrs. Winifred A. Burford will be pained to learn of her death. Mrs. Burford will be remembered as ever cheerful, bright and energetic, with always a good word for every one. She had a long, painful illness, yet even cheerful under the most trying conditions, and always with a strong hope and faith that she would ultimately conquer it. During the last months of her illness she affiliated with the Catholic church, which was a great comfort to her in her last days, and was buried from the Holy Family church of Glendale on Tuesday morning, at nine o'clock, and laid to rest in Calvary cemetery. May everlasting peace be her portion. Her husband, W. W. Burford of Glendale, a brother in Rochester, Minn., and a sister in McGregor, Iowa, are left to mourn her loss.

Mr. John Fanset of Fillmore, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Asa Fanset of West Fifth street.

HIGH SCHOOL

Last Saturday the boys' baseball team went to Whittier where they played a very hard game, but due to a little bad luck they were defeated.

Successfully pitched a very good game. This is the third game the boys have lost, while they have won two. The commercial department, under supervision of Mr. Gates, gave a very entertaining program to the school Monday afternoon. Mr. Gates gave the history of correspondence from the earliest period to the present day, concluding with the history of the typewriter. The advanced stenography class gave an example of rapid shorthand work and afterward wrote the dictated letters on the typewriter. Music was furnished by the school Victrola.

The seniors are going to have a picnic at Sycamore Canyon this week to celebrate their victory of Friday night, in winning the decision of best decorations and also the oratorical contest.

The junior class is exceedingly proud of its new banner which was displayed for the first time the night of the oratorical contest. It is a very beautiful one and the audience was very appreciative of it, judging by their vigorous applause when it was brought into the room.

The third annual oratorical contest which was held last Friday evening in the auditorium, was a great success in every way. Mr. Dwight Stephenson, the winner of last year's contest, was chairman of the meeting. All four of the speakers were very good, but the judges awarded first place to Harold Story of the senior class, who spoke on the subject of "The New Patriotism." The chairman presented him with a twenty-dollar gold piece as first prize. The senior class also received first place for their decorations, although each of the other classes thought its own booth a close second. The junior class made the hit of the evening with the little black goat which led its parade. The yelling was greatly enjoyed by the students, though possibly a little too boisterous for the comfort of the visitors.

The Glendale high school has been admitted as a member of the Suburban Oratorical League, composed of Pasadena, Long Beach, Huntington Beach, and Santa Ana. Harold Story will represent Glendale in the annual contest, which is to be held April 26 at Santa Ana.

The Caesar class is preparing to give a Latin banquet in the high school gymnasium. The old Roman ideas will be carried out in the costumes and also in the menu.

The Girls' Glee Club of the music department is planning to give a cantata, "The Lady of Shalott." Viola Yorba of Casa Verdugo will take the solo parts. As yet it is not fully decided on what date it will be given.

Church subscriptions and building fund payments can be placed in regular envelopes and put into collection plates at the tent. These amounts will go to the regular church treasury.

AT THE GOSPEL TENT.

The union Gospel services at the big tent are drawing large crowds. Each night from 500 to 700 persons are present. Sunday evening nearly 1,200 were in attendance. It was the largest audience that ever assembled in Glendale. Evangelist Handenschield is a man of commanding personality, possessing a strong, clear voice. He preaches the "old Gospel" with life and power. Prof. Farrar is a splendid musical director as well as an accomplished soloist.

Cottage prayer meetings are held each morning at 9:30. At 2:30 in the afternoon Mr. Handenschield conducts instructive Bible lectures. These lectures are attended by several hundred people. The evening service begins at 7:30 o'clock with a song service by the chorus choir of 150 voices, assisted by an orchestra led by Prof. Farrar.

On Sunday, services will be held at the tent at 11 and 7:30 for all people. At 3 o'clock a service for women only will be held.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB.

Reciprocity Day was a grand success from beginning to end. The weather was all that could be desired, a typical Southern California day. The club room was decorated with baskets of beautiful California poppies and acacia blooms. Guests representing nineteen different clubs were present. A delightful social hour was enjoyed until noon, when a bountiful lunch was served by members of the club. After lunch the president, Mrs. A. W. Tower, in a few well-chosen words greeted the guests in behalf of the club. By special request, Mrs. Stevens, president of the Garden Women's Club, told of the successful work of their club, which, though small in numbers, is very enterprising. The following pleasing program was then presented: Violin solo by our favorite Glendale violinist, Julius Kranz; a sweet vocal solo by Miss Grace James, and an entertaining reading by Miss Thelma Mertens, with violin obligato by Julius Kranz. Mrs. Mattison B. Jones accompanied Miss James and Mr. Kranz. At the close of the program a meeting of the club members was called, and the cause of a club lot presented, and subscriptions amounting to over $200 were received for that purpose. This, with the amount on hand, brings the building and lands fund up to between $400 and $500. At the next meeting, May 14, the site for a club home will be chosen. The building and lands committee has a proposition to put before the club at that time which they hope will meet with approval.

FRATERNAL BROTHERHOOD ENTERTAINMENT.

Tonight (Friday), at K. of P. Hall, the Howes Recital Company gives an entertainment under the auspices of the Fraternal Brotherhood lodge. After the regular program, the floor will be given up to dancing. The net receipts will be donated to the sufferers of the Titanic disaster. Admission 25 cents.

BUY AND WILL BUILD.

The First Congregational church of Glendale has purchased two lots at the northwest corner of Central avenue and Third street. This will make an excellent location for the church, only two blocks from the Pacific Electric and only a block from the proposed new street railway. The location while near the business center, is easily accessible to a large territory of the West Side. The location is some distance to the nearest church and a full mile or more from several of the older churches of Glendale.

In entering this section of the city the Congregationalists feel that they are meeting a real need, especially is this true in regard to Sunday school work. There are many families on the West Side who do not like to send their children across the car tracks and the location of the new church will be much appreciated by these people.

It is only a little over six months since the first Congregational services were held in Glendale. A flourishing Sunday school has been organized with an enrollment of 75, a woman's auxiliary which is doing aggressive work. The church has been organized and now has a membership of forty-one.

So rapidly has the work developed that a church building has become an imperative need. The pastor and people realize that with a building the work will develop much more rapidly. Several lines of church activities which are not now possible will be undertaken. Special attention will be given to the interests and needs of boys and men, while the girls and women will not be overlooked.

Just the kind of building that will be erected has not been fully decided but whatever is built will be neat, attractive and adapted to progressive Christian work. Work on the building it is expected will commence in the near future.

P. E. O. MUSICAL EVENING.

A regular meeting of Chapter L was held Monday evening at the home of Miss Monica Smith on Maryland avenue. After a short business session the evening was devoted to a musical program rendered by members of the chapter. Answers to roll call was a description of each individual's greatest musical treat which proved to be of considerable interest. A piano solo rendered by Miss Rena Severance, was greatly enjoyed; also a piano solo by Mrs. George Mayse; a group of songs by Mrs. Josephine Bryant was a delightful addition to the evening's pleasures. An especially pleasing number was the cello solo rendered by Mr. Dana Burket, accompanied by Mrs. Charles Burket. A humorous reading by Mrs. Edith Hunchberger captivated one and all and completed the program. Following the program dainty refreshments were served and the session proved to be one of the pleasantest enjoyed by the chapter this year. The next session of Chapter L will be an all day meeting and luncheon at the home of Mrs. A. W. Randolph on Glendale avenue. This is the last meeting to be held before state convention and a large attendance is desired. Any members having questions which they want brought up for discussion during convention will please present them at that meeting, properly framed and written on paper, to the delegates from Chapter L.

Mr. Robert T. Root, representing the American Peace Society on the Pacific Coast, spent last Tuesday in Glendale, speaking before four of our schools. His talk at the High School occupied three-quarters of an hour. He spoke of the horrors of war and the cost of it, and told of the things accomplished by the Hague tribunal.

TO ADVERTISERS.

This paper goes to press Thursday afternoon. Advertisements should be filled by Wednesday morning, although important brief reading notices can be handled up to noon Thursday.

The NEWS started out several years ago with the slogan "A Greater Glendale," and our ambition is almost satisfied. But if there are any outsiders not too remote, who want to come and try housekeeping with us, let them come in. Brother Burch, did you know?

C. J. McDevitt, well and most favorably known among the journalists of this section, died at his home in Los Angeles Thursday morning last. The funeral services were held at the Bresee parlors Saturday at 2:30 p. m., attended by a large number of friends.
Mr. McDevitt was one of the founders of the Southern California Editorial Association and will be greatly missed by his fellow workers. His most recent connection with editorial work was as proprietor of the Randsburg Miner. He was a man of large experience in political and other fields and of high moral character.

AN INTERESTING COINCIDENCE.

A writer under the pen name of Wayne Clew Garnett was having printed at the very time the Titanic disaster occurred a story containing the description of the sinking ship of an Atlantic liner by an iceberg which is almost uncanny in the after light of the great tragedy. In almost every detail the story would pass as that of an eye witness to the sinking of the Titanic; an 800-foot vessel going at a rate of 22 knots an hour, the warning in regard to icebergs, the terrific impact with a mountain of ice towering 300 feet above the doomed vessel, even the unusual calmness of the sea is noted. In one essential detail there is a difference however: in the story as told by the novelist, the captain commits suicide by shooting, instead of going down heroically with his ship.
The story appears in one of the ten-cent magazines.

OWENS RIVER WATER NOT NEEDED.

Glendale and Tropic have no more use for the waters of Owens river for domestic purposes than they have for a sacred White Elephant. We have an ample supply in sight in Verdugo Canon for several years to come. One-half of the water coming out of that canyon is now used for the irrigation of citrus orchards, alfalfa and vegetables. The consumption by the city of Glendale does not amount to forty inches. In addition to the visible supply there is sufficient evidence in the wells now in use to justify the belief that the supply capable of being developed from underneath is many times greater than the 200 inches or so that now flows to us by gravity.
The great San Fernando valley, however, very close to the limits of Glendale and Tropic, does need the Owens river water, but not to drink!
If the water from the aqueduct could be obtained of Los Angeles for nothing except the cost of constructing the pipe lines to distribute it, the cost of it would still be very heavy. But the immense acreage of San Fernando valley now lying idle for lack of water for irrigation can afford to pay well for their supply.
The value of an adequate water supply to the land that now has none, can scarcely be overestimated and the water from the aqueduct should be used liberally in making it possible to people the now useless acres. The papers in the Owens river valley continue to assert that Los Angeles will be compelled to supply water to the lands along the route of the aqueduct, and their claim is apparently well founded. It is a principle well established in law that water cannot be held in perpetuity without use. Los Angeles does not at present need the Owens river water, and there is evidently a nervous fear in administration circles there that use for the large amount of water to be brought down here next year will not be found.

This has evidently been the motive for the campaign being waged unceasingly to make outside communities believe that they do need it and that they must consent to being absorbed in order to get it. The effort is being skillfully made to impress contiguous communities with the idea that they cannot secure the water unless they become a part of Los Angeles city. It is noticeable, however, that no positive statement of this kind has been made, evidently because it is not a fact.
There seems to be no grounds for the belief that Los Angeles cannot lease the water for a term of years to any community that desires it and will pay a reasonable rental, and it will probably not be long before this idea of renting the water instead of selling it will be adopted by the commission as a last resort.

But in the meantime the people of Glendale and Tropic should not permit themselves to be inveigled into any entangling alliance with Los Angeles whereby they become responsible for any of the indebtedness of that city unless the worth of their money is clearly in sight.

THE GREAT TRAGEDY.

There never yet was a great catastrophe out of which did not spring some beautiful flower of compensation, inadequate perhaps from the narrow viewpoint of our human understanding, but beautiful nevertheless and fragrant with consolation. Speaking on the battlefield where occurred one of the bloodiest conflicts recorded in history, Abraham Lincoln declared:
"These dead have not died in vain," seeing as he did with prophetic vision the fruit that grew on the tree of liberty as a result of heroic sacrifice. The terrible tragedy of the sinking of the Titanic may well be the theme for poets and preachers not only for the brief period when it is fresh in the minds of the people, but for years to come, for it may well be recognized as an historical event that will be spoken of by generations yet unborn. It marks an epoch and will have a tremendous and world-wide influence in many ways that will develop as time goes on. It was such a conspicuous catastrophe, the counterpart of which could scarcely be planned by any malevolent human brain, that it suggests the act of a higher power, an influence that has at its command the irresistible forces of nature. In the days when the Deities of Olympus were supposed to control the earth and the elements, it would have been easily conceivable that the sea, personified in the great god Neptune, had chosen to give a demonstration of his power and claimed the terrible sacrifice of those who dared him in his own domain. It is useless to say that the accident was preventable. Now that it has taken place, innumerable ways suggest themselves by which it might have been prevented, but always the fact remains that the human mind cannot forecast the future and there is always possible those fateful combinations of circumstances which cannot be foreseen.

The catastrophe demonstrates the futility of science to avert the unavoidable end of everything that is human.
And science has done so much, is doing day after day such wonderful things, that to some minds it seems not to be an idle dream but a possible reality, that it might some time triumph over every force in nature and demonstrate man to be the master of them all! And against such an idea is hurled this tremendous tragedy!

For years the navigation of the sea has been a continuous evolution until men have become accustomed to traveling over its surface with as great a sense of security as is felt upon the land. The feeling of security having been established there followed the addition of luxuries such as unmeasured wealth could suggest; travelers have not only the comforts of home, but luxuries are afforded them which can scarcely be duplicated ashore. But the sinking of the Titanic has called a halt, the limit has been reached in more than one direction.

From the beginning "the men who go down to the sea in ships" have been noted for their physical bravery. It has become an unwritten law that not only the captain but his crew also shall stay by the ship until the passengers are safe, and an innumerable host of unnamed heroes have gone down into the depths as a matter of course in the performance of duty. In the recent great tragedy there were no doubt a great company of these aside from those whose names are known.

But the best of the compensations which the world at large receives from the loss of the Titanic is the demonstration of the fact that civilization has not impaired the heroic quality of the race and that the high quality of combined moral and physical courage is not confined to condition, sex nor class. And here again the demonstration is as perfect as if it all was planned to establish this great fact, for among the victims of the tragedy were men with world-wide reputations, one of the most conspicuous heroes of the occasion being also one of the wealthiest men in the world. But none of them died more nobly than the members of the band who with the ice-cold waters enveloping them sent forth from their instruments the inspiring strains of "Nearer my God to thee."

"These dead have not died in vain," was spoken of the heroes of a bloody field, but it was no less true in its application to these victims of the implacable forces of the sea. The preachers of class-hatred must hang their heads in shame when they think of this great tragedy, where the owner of a hundred millions stooped to save an unknown child and courteously assisted feeble women to their places in the life boats while he stepped back to die as becomes a man.

The tragedy demonstrated another fact, and that is that human nature does not change from age to age.
There have been heroes as far back as the history of the race reaches and there will be such until the end. Civilization puts a thin veneer upon us, environment and education may change the outer man, but deep down in the heart of him abides the two principles that struggle eternally for the mastery. There were cowards on board the Titanic, but out of the terrible catastrophe, it was the heroic that triumphed after all and in that is found encouragement for the divine that is within us.

MAY FESTIVAL.

At a meeting of the committee of the Improvement Association held last Thursday evening it was decided to hold the annual May Festival this year on Thursday, May 23rd. Details have not yet been worked out but there is no doubt but that the event will be as highly successful as its predecessors have been and will result in they have in advertising Glendale in a highly successful manner.

WEST GLENDALE

Mr. and Mrs. Cox of Los Angeles, former Glendale residents, were in Glendale Sunday visiting friends.

The West Glendale grammar school baseball team played a very exciting game with the Burbank team on Tuesday afternoon and came out ahead.

The "whooping cough brigade" of the West Glendale school is slowly but surely disbanding, and one by one are returning to their duties in the school room.

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Dodge and daughter, Miss Kathleen, and son, Master Fred, enjoyed a delightful auto trip around Santa Barbara and vicinity last Wednesday.

Dan Kelly, of Cornwell and Kelly, made a flying or rather driving trip to La Canada, one evening recently, in the interest of the firm. When he returned he was all wreathed in smiles, so we presume the trip was a profitable one.

The West Glendale M. E. church will hold a cooked-food sale tomorrow (Saturday) at McGillis Grocery on Brand boulevard. Bear this in mind and buy something that is good for your Sunday dinner, and help along a worthy cause.

The many friends of "Happy Shaver" who recently met with an automobile accident, are very glad to see the young man and his auto again on the streets. He wears no bandages, but still has that noted smile of his—
the kind that won't come off.

During the past week many new residences have been noticed in different stages of construction, and every one seems to be of a very good class. One was noticed on Milford street, one in Salem street, one on Central avenue.
Chandler and Lawson are erecting one on Sixth street between Columbus and Central.

Mr. O. H. Martin, who has been spending the winter with his son, Mr.
Martin of Pacific avenue, left for his home in Canada last Sunday. Mr.
Martin has about eighty years to his credit, and is hale and hearty, and enjoyed his visit which happens to be his second one, immensely. He intends some day to return to Glendale and make his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Atkinson who rented their property on Milford street some time ago, and have been living in Los Angeles since, are once more counted among Glendale citizens.
They have come to the conclusion that Glendale is the only place, and will occupy their own cozy home hereafter.

They were recent luncheon guests at the home of Mrs. Laura Scamman on Burchette street.
Mrs. C. H. Desmond and two sons, relatives of Mrs. Miner from the northern part of the state, arrived in Glendale recently, and have taken a cottage at the corner of Pacific and Fifth streets. They will enter into business in Glendale at once, having secured a location in the Central building on Broadway east of Brand boulevard.

We have often heard it said that a woman would almost "break her neck" getting to a bargain sale, or something of the kind, but we never heard of a man "breaking his leg" getting to church. However this really and truly happened recently to one of Glendale's prominent citizens, and if you don't believe it just ask the editor of the Jewel City Press, for he "saw it with his own eyes."

Mrs. L. G. Bramble and friend, Mrs.
Thompson, and two children of Chihuahua, Mexico, are at present stopping in Los Angeles, but will soon leave for Long Beach where they will remain for some time. Owing to the troublesome times in Mexico just now the party had great difficulty in getting away, but by securing a special train with an escort of soldiers in the lead, they managed to make their way out without any further trouble. Mr.
Bramble and Mr. Thompson are prominent business men of Chihuahua and will remain there. The ladies who were among the last to leave, were loath to leave their husbands in such a time as this and braved it out as long as was thought safe for them.
When they decided to make a change until matters became more settled.

SENATOR GATES SPEAKS.

Senator L. C. Gates addressed the Roosevelt Republicans Tuesday evening at K. of P. hall, there being a fair audience present. The meeting was presided over by Mr. Theodore Pierce, president of the organization.
Mr. Gates gave his reasons for supporting Col. Roosevelt, principally because he believed him to be a "True Progressive," and asserted that he had been tried seven years and not found wanting, while President Taft in his opinion was just the reverse.
The club meets again next Tuesday evening.

NEW BOARDS OF SCHOOL TRUS- TEES.

The last session of the legislature in California succeeded in mixing up the laws to some extent, among those so affected being the law in relation to grammar school trustees. The old law by which the term of these officials ended July 1st was repealed and the term made to end May 1st. A special law upon the statute books relating to "New Districts" was not repealed, however, and this provided that the first elected trustees should hold until July 1st, in this agreeing with the general law. This condition raised some doubt as to when the lately elected trustees in the Glendale city district should assume office, the recent consolidation of the districts raising the point as to whether this constituted a "new district." The county superintendent having ruled that it is an old district, the newly elected trustees will be sworn in on May 1st. Upon the newly elected board devolves the duty of securing teachers for the next school year. The board consists of C. S. Westlake, A. B.
Heacock and R. C. Sternberg.

Mr. and Mrs. Sol Meyer of Randolph street left Glendale recently to make their future home in New Orleans.

SCHOOL BOND ELECTION.

At the request of a large and representative committee of the citizens of Casa Verdugo and North Glendale, the Board of Trustees of the Glendale City School District have called an election for May 21, 1912, to vote on the question of issuing bonds to the amount of $30,000 for the purpose of purchasing grounds, building a school house, and equipping the same for the use of that section. The pressing need of a school in that community is a fact that is recognized by all, and the only point of difference seems to be as to the amount of money to be expended for that purpose, and for that reason the committee reduced the amount asked for in the other election, which failed by only a few votes. The legal call for the election will be found elsewhere in this issue.

FOURTH STREET PARENT- TEACHER ASSOCIATION.

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Fourth street school met Thursday afternoon in the school building.
The meeting was devoted to election of officers. Those elected were Mrs.
Plummer Van Sant, president; Mrs.
Eugene C. Frank, vice president; Mrs.
J. Mook, second vice president; Mrs.
W. S. Carmichael, secretary; Mrs.
Thomas Palmer, treasurer. Following election of officers, Mrs. Fred Sinclair, hostess of the afternoon, served dainty refreshments and a pleasant time was enjoyed by the large number of members and guests present.

On Wednesday evening, April 24th, the Glendale Theatre management offered a monster program with the view of raising funds to help the unfortunate survivors of the Titanic disaster, but owing to so many counter attractions, we regret to report a very small attendance. The program in the ordinary way would have cost the theatre management not less than $26, but through the unstinted liberality of the several performers, the expenses were cut down to $9.90. The gross receipts of the evening amounted to $12.75, leaving $2.85 for the Titanic fund. There were a few who objected to paying an extranicle even for this worthy object. However, we feel sure that those who came with a feeling of sympathy and a willingness to assist the unfortunate, enjoyed an excellent program and will tell others what they missed.

TAFT REFORMS POSTAL SERVICE

Government's Biggest Business
Now Run on Modern Basis.

PENNY POSTAGE POSSIBLE.

Economy and Efficiency in Administration Under Hitchcock Make Cheaper Postage Rates Imminent—Policies Should Be Continued.

In thorough accord with the policy of economy and efficiency of the Taft administration, Postmaster General Frank H. Hitchcock has put an end to the annual deficit in the postoffice department and made possible the serious consideration of further reforms and improvements, not the least important of which is the imminent possibility of penny postage. Many other reforms that have the support of President Taft will be inaugurated this year. Another term of the Taft administration would place this $240,000,000 business institution completely on a business basis.

At the beginning of the present administration the postal service was in arrears to the extent of $17,479,770.47, which was decidedly the largest deficit on record. Last year the revenues exceeded the expenditures by $219,118.12.

The wiping out of the deficit has been accomplished without any curtailment of facilities. On the contrary, there have been established 3,744 new postoffices, delivery by carrier has been provided in 186 additional cities, and 2,516 new rural routes, aggregating 60,679 miles, have been authorized. Meanwhile the force of postal employees has been increased by more than 8,000, and last year the to-routes and to serve thousands of additional patrons on existing routes with little or no increased cost. But the Taft program of postal reform and progress is not yet completed. The president is urging congress to adopt legislation for the readjustment of postage rates on a basis of cost, which will eventually permit of a 1 cent rate on letter mail. A project also is under way for giving to village communities the same free delivery of mail that is now enjoyed by cities and the rural population.

The establishment of a domestic parcel post has received the earnest consideration of the president. In some branches of the delivery service, notably the rural and city delivery routes, the equipment now necessary is sufficient for the additional transportation of considerable merchandise with little or no increase in expense.

President Taft, accordingly, has urgently recommended to congress the adoption of the necessary legislation, and to present the issue clearly, three items of $50,000 each have been includ-

MINERS' WELFARE CAUSE OF TAFT

Bureau of Mines Marks Great Step Forward.

SAVES HUNDREDS OF LIVES.

Discovery of Danger of Coal Dust Important—Handling of Explosives Made Safer—Government's Experimental Coal Mines.

The saving of many lives annually—the lives of miners throughout the United States—will be one of the splendid results that will follow the establishment of the bureau of mines, one of the great achievements in the interest of labor of the administration of President Taft.

The excessive and unnecessary loss of life in the mines of this country was one of the primary causes for the creation of this bureau. For years hundreds of miners were killed in mine disasters, and practically nothing was done to check the terrible loss of life.

Spurred on by President Taft, an act creating the bureau of mines was passed by congress and became effective on July 1, 1910. John A. Holmes of the United States geological survey was appointed as the first director. Mr. Holmes was reputed and certified to be the best trained man for the place obtainable in the United States. The chief experimental station was established at Pittsburgh, where the investigations of the problems entrusted to the bureau have been prosecuted so successfully for nearly two years.

In the year 1907, the most disastrous of all years in the American coal mines, 3,125 miners lost their lives. This represented 4.86 of men killed for every 1,000 employed. In coal mines in Europe less than two miners are killed out of every 1,000 employed. As a result of the work conducted by the bureau of mines and the wise use of an appropriation of $150,000 made by congress, the death rate has been already reduced to practically one-half what it was in 1907.

One of the notable achievements of the bureau of mines was the demonstration of the fact that coal dust in a bituminous mine is more dangerous and deadly than gas. It had been the belief heretofore that gas or fire damp was the greatest menace to the miners, and little attention was given to the accumulation of coal dust. The bureau of mines proved to the satisfaction of the miners as well as operators that coal dust would explode and, unlike fire damp, carried to warning with it. The keeping of dusty mines wet, as recommended by the bureau of mines, was found to reduce materially the chances of explosion of coal dust.

The number of deaths in the mines has been greatly reduced as a result of the testing of explosives under the direction of the bureau of mines. In the year 1908 the coal mines in the United States used 2,000,000 pounds of short flame explosives, and at present nearly seven times that quantity is being used with greater safety, due to the co-operation of the coal operators and the bureau of mines.

The establishment of an experimental coal mine at Brucetown, Pa., twelve miles from Pittsburgh, is still another notable achievement of the bureau of mines. It places the United States in advance of other nations with respect to this research and experimental work in mines. Numerous tests are made at this experimental mine, from which many excellent results are obtained.

Still another important work which is conducted under the auspices of the bureau of mines is the rescue of entombed miners. Since the creation of the bureau many hundreds of lives have been saved. At the big mining disaster in Ohio one of the rescue corps of the bureau of mines arrived at the scene thirty-two hours after the disaster. Three men were rescued who had been given up as dead and allowed to remain in the mine. At another time one man was found alive among 150 dead, and today he is the sole survivor of that terrible catastrophe due to the splendid work of the rescue corps.

Before the bureau of mines was made possible by the interest of President Taft, which was followed by the necessary legislation for its establishment, there was no organized effort in saving the lives of entombed miners. Time and again men have sacrificed their lives in vain attempts to rescue their companions. This unnecessary sacrifice of life has been stopped by the co-operation of the state authorities with the federal rescuers attached to the bureau of mines. An investigation of the fuel resources of the United States is also being made with a view of checking the waste and increasing the efficiency with which fuel is used. This latter phase of the work is a part of the practical conservation policy of the Taft administration.

Dr. Wiley Supports Taft.
Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, who recently resigned as chief chemist of the department of agriculture, when in Cincinnati several days ago made the following statement:
"President Taft is the one man who stood between me and destruction at Washington. When efforts were being made to 'assassinate me' Taft proved my only protector. He stood by me, and I am grateful to him. I hope he will be re-elected president."

A Solemn Dance.
They have a singular kind of dance conducted on the greens of country villages in Russia. The dancers stand apart, a knot of young men here, a knot of maidens there, each sex by itself and silent as a crowd of mutes. A piper breaks into a tune; a youth pulls off his cap and challenges his girl with a wave and bow. If the girl is willing, she waves her handkerchief in token of assent. The youth advances, takes a corner of the handkerchief in his hand and leads his lassie round and round. No word is spoken and no laugh is heard. Stiff with cords and rich with braids, the girl moves heavily by herself, going round and round and never allowing her partner to touch her hand. The piper goes droning on for hours in the same sad key and measure, and the prize of merit in this "circling" as the dance is called, is given by spectators to the lassie who in all that summer revelry has never spoken and never smiled.

Seeing Distances.
About 200 miles in every direction is the distance a man can see when standing on a clear day on the peak of the highest mountain—say at a height of 20,000 feet, or a little over five miles above the level of the sea. An observer must be at a height of 6,000 feet above sea level to see objects at a distance of a hundred miles. The distance in miles at which an object upon the surface of the earth is visible is equal to the square root of one and one-half times the height of the observer in feet above sea level. Some allowance has to be made for the effect of atmospheric refraction, but as the refraction varies at different heights and is affected by the various states of the weather no precisely accurate figures for general purposes can be given. Probably from one-fourteenth to one-tenth of the distance given by the formula would have to be deducted owing to the refraction of the atmosphere.

"Long Live the King."
The expression "The king is dead, long live the king," indicates the automatic succession of ruling sovereigns—that the moment a king dies his successor becomes king without any further formality. It is believed to have had its origin at the death of Louis XIV. of France. In Pardo's "Life of Louis XIV." is the following account of the announcement of the death of that monarch:
"The death of Louis XIV. was announced by the captain of the bodyguard from a window of the state apartment. Raising his truncheon above his head, he broke it in the center and, throwing the pieces among the crowd, exclaimed in a loud voice, 'Le roi est mort! (the king is dead). Then, seizing another staff, he flourished it in the air as he shouted, 'Vive le roi! (Long live the king).'—New York Times.

Primitive Screws.
Screws are still made in India just as they were made originally, by winding two soft wires together around a mandrel. The wires are then carefully separated, and one of them is soldered into a tube or nut, while the other is soldered to a short rod. All the silver-smiths make their screws in this way, and they are all left handed, for they are wound over and over by the right hand. Screw bolts and screw presses were introduced by Europeans, and for many years all the cotton exported from India was compressed by a massive screw of wood, turned round by cattle yoked to a long lever. This screw may still be found in remote districts. It is cut entirely by hand and is set out by winding two ropes around the hand dressed beam to give the pitch.—Eastern Engineering.

Dickens and a Face Ache.
Dickens wanted to be an actor before he was an author. He would have been but for a face ache. When he was a lad and a lawyer's clerk he had attained a trial of his power of reproducing "character and oddity" before Mathews and Charles Kemble. But a face ache kept him at home, and soon after he "made a great splash" as a newspaper reporter. Thereafter he reproduced "character and oddity" on paper instead of the stage.

A Surprise.
Rector (on his way to church, meeting a gamekeeper)—Come, my good fellow, how is it I never see you at church? Gamekeeper—Well, sir, I don't wish to make your congregation smaller. Rector (puzzled)—I don't see how you could. Gamekeeper—Well, sir, you see, if I came to church the rest of the parish would go poaching.—London Telegraph.

A Matter of Change.
"What a change a woman can make in a man's life!" sighed the very young man.
"Right you are, my boy," sighed the scanty haired man who had been up against the matrimonial game for many years. "and what a lot of change she requires while doing it!"

A Time Limit.
"I think I'll go and get a drink now."
"Oh, darling, you know you swore off for a year!"
"Yes, but two years elapse between this act and the next."—London Tatler.

Musical Criticism.
The Musician—Hang it, Bill, don't you realize that one of your shoes squeals in a B flat and the other in G major?—Life.

Ignorance of one's misfortunes is clear gain.—Euripides.

Cornwell & Kelty, Glendale, Calif.

—St. Louis Globe-Democrat, March 28, 1912.

tal amount expended for salaries was approximately $14,000,000 greater than two years ago. The average annual salary has been increased from $800 to $967 for rural carriers, from $970 to $1,062 for postoffice clerks, from $1,021 to $1,084 for city letter carriers and from $1,108 to $1,183 for railway postal clerks. Thus a marked extension of the postal service and increased compensation for its employees have gone hand in hand with a vanishing deficit.

Postal Banks Great Success.
By persistent effort the present Republican administration secured the passage on June 25, 1910, of the act creating the postal savings system, which is now in operation at practically all the 7,500 presidential postoffices. Preparations are being made for its extension to 40,000 fourth-class postoffices. It is confidently anticipated that the deposits at the close of the present fiscal year will aggregate $50,000,000 and that the income of the system will be sufficient to pay all operating expenses.

Under President Taft the postoffice department has engaged in an aggressive campaign against the fraudulent use of the mails. Last year the inspectors investigated many cases involving the sale of worthless stock in imaginary mining companies and other fictitious concerns. There were altogether 529 indictments and 184 convictions, with but 12 acquittals. The other cases are pending. The convicted swindlers had defrauded the people of many millions of dollars.

Sunday service by employees has been reduced to a minimum, with little objection from patrons.

Reforms Under Way.
Many other improvements have been made in the postal service during President Taft's term of office, such as the shipment of periodicals in carloads by fast freight, which has reduced the cost of transportation and expedited the handling of first class mail, and the consolidation of the star route and rural delivery services, so that it has been possible to establish many new ed in the estimates of the postal service by Postmaster General Hitchcock, two to cover the initial expense of introducing the parcel post on rural routes and in the city delivery service, respectively, and the third to meet the cost of an investigation looking to the final extension of the service to the railways and other transportation lines.

TAFT DEFEATS RAILROADS.

Prevents Increase in Freight Rates by Vigorous Action.

President Taft's method of doing his work as president without seeking to achieve personal notoriety from his good works was never better illustrated than in his ultimatum to the railroads of the country which prevented a general increase in railroad rates just prior to the adoption of amendments to the railroad rate law two years ago. The president served notice upon the railroads that if they anticipated the new law they would be haled into court and as a result of subsequent conferences the railroads agreed to postpone their action until the new law was passed.

In the new law of congress President Taft assisted in inserting a provision which transferred from the shoulders of the shipper to that of the railroads the burden of proof in establishing the reasonableness of a railroad rate prior to that time the practice had been just the opposite, with the result that many shippers who were or had been suffering from discriminatory rates or practices, were unable to prove their cases without great expense or long litigation or both. Under this new law the railroads subsequently made application for an increase in their rates and the interstate commerce commission, not being satisfied with the showing of the railroads as to their reasonableness, denied them. Thus one of the great achievements of President Taft came to pass, an achievement which affected every man, woman and child in the country, but it was done so quietly that it has almost been forgotten by many who were benefited.

Emotions and Exclamations.
Why do we say "ah" in pleasure, "oh" in surprise and "oo" in displeasure or pain? These sounds are the vocal representations of emotions. Every emotion has certain bodily expressions, some of which are exhibited in movements of the muscles of the face giving the facial expressions, as of fear, anger, pleasure, pity, etc., and some of the facial expressions are associated with other instinctive acts, as movement of the eyes, emission of sounds, raising the arms, clapping the hands, etc. In the emission of sounds the simplest vocalization, the "ah" sound, is produced and modified by the action of the muscles of the lips, their action depending upon the facial expression of the emotion. Expectancy allows reason to act, and we withhold such sounds if we expect the cause of the emotion. The scream of pain is instinctive and in the nature of a means of defense. It has a paralyzing effect on the enemy and, in fact, on every one else. Nobody who has been startled by a woman's scream will forget the momentary paralyzation of muscles and mind which it caused.—New York American.

A Bit of Railroad History.
"There is a grave in Greenwood cemetery," said an old time railroad man, "the stone at the head of which bears only the name of the man whose remains are buried there, the date of his birth and the date of his death. Yet that man, John Raymond, built the first mile of railroad for commercial use and designed for locomotive power ever put down on the American continent."

"That was in 1828, and that initial mile of railroad was the beginning of the Delaware and Hudson Canal company's railroad between the head of its canal at Honesdale, Pa., and its coal mines at Carbondale. And on that first mile of track the first locomotive to turn a wheel in America was run in August, 1829."

"John Raymond was a native of Walton, Delaware county, N. Y., and died in Scranton, Pa., in 1883. He ought to have a place in railroad history, seems to me."—New York Sun.

Supplanting Mr. Howells.
Professor Brander Matthews at a dinner in New York once said of literary criticism:
"A good deal of it, too, is biased. A good deal of it is like Mr. Walton's. Mr. Walton's daughter, a college girl, wrote, at the age of eighteen, a novel which her father brought out for her at his own expense. During the Christmas holidays Mr. Walton gave a party in his daughter's honor, and at this party the young girl read from an improvised platform chapters out of her book. Her father old father was carried away by the reading. So tremendously indeed did his admiration for his daughter's talent enkindle him that as the girl read on the man could be heard muttering over and over:
"Howells be hanged! Howells be hanged!"—Exchange.

The Point of the Cape of Good Hope.
Cape point, which terminates the mighty headland known as the Cape of Good Hope, consists of a towering promontory of sandstone, which rises from the sea to an altitude of 840 feet. At the base of this stands a big solitary column which is known as Vasco da Gama's pillar. The lighthouse which here illuminates the meeting place of the Atlantic and Indian oceans is one of the most important and most useful of its kind. It is visible from a distance of thirty-six miles. The cliff scenery is wild and sublime, the rocks are magnificent, and the far reaching sea, with the fierce surf beating on the iron bound coast, is impressive. In the water directly beneath the cliff sharks are abundant.

Soldiers' Superstitions.
Among the numerous superstitions of the Cossacks there is none stronger than the belief that they will enter heaven in a better state if they are personally clean at the time they are killed. Consequently before an expected battle they perform their toilettes with scrupulous care, dress themselves in clean garments and put on the best they have. This superstition is not confined to the Cossacks alone, but is widely prevalent in all branches of the Russian army.

Where Algernon Lost.
"No," said the disconsolate girl, "I am sure Algernon does not love me. His mind is not on me as it should be."
"How do you know?"
"I played bridge at the same table with him and he could remember what the trump was all the time."—Washington Star.

Where He Fails.
"It's too bad the average man can't be satisfied with a good living and not be hungering for more money."
"The average man is satisfied with a good living. The only trouble is that his idea of a good living grows with his income."—Exchange.

Counting Up.
"I started to work on my twentieth story yesterday," said the bustling man, "and I tell you I'm making it pay."
"You are an author?"
"Certainly not! I'm an architect."—Washington Star.

Ola Fasting Advice.
Thomas Cogan in "The Haven of Health," published in 1583, discusses the no breakfast question at considerable length. "Touching breakfasts, whether or no they are to be used, it may be some question, because they are not mentioned in Galer and other ancient authors of Physicks, neither are they appointed by order of the universities, but only two meals of the day spoken of, which be dinner and supper. But the temperature of this our country is such that I think it good for Englishmen not to be long fasting. Yet some may better bide without than others. Children and young men until they came to the age of thirty-five may not be long fasting without inconvenience. Men of middle age—that is, from thirty-five to forty-nine—may better bear it. Old men, being not decrepitate—that is, from fifty to seventy—may best of all abide fasting, but after seventy years they are to be dieted as children."—London Chronicle.

The Scorpion's Fainting Fit.
The scorpion that is placed in the center of a ring of coals does not commit suicide by stinging himself to death as has been claimed. In lands where the scorpion abounds it is a regular pastime among countrymen to ring a scorpion with fire and watch him commit, as is believed, the happy dispatch. Nevertheless the scorpion has the last laugh and not the spectator. The scorpion, though an inhabitant of torrid regions, is so delicately organized that a very slight increase above the normal temperature produces a condition in him analogous to a fainting fit. Driven desperate by the heat, he lashes his tail wildly, giving the impression that he is plunging his sting into his own body. Then he falls motionless. As a presumably dead scorpion has no further interest for the spectators, he is usually left where he has fallen, and after the fire has died down he recovers and crawls away.—Harper's.

A Novel Trap.
A short time ago a hunter found in a patch of woods in Connecticut eleven large blacksnakes tied up in hard knots and stone dead. Two telegraph wires ran through the woods overhead, and a few days before there had been a heavy blast set off in a quarry near by. This broke down the wires and started a colony of blacksnakes from their slumbers in a neighboring ledge. One of the wires was crossed in a distant city by a trolley wire, and hence the broken wires which lay near the snakes' den made a death trap. When the snakes came to the wires trailing on the ground one after another crossed over them, touching the ends of both wires at the same time. They thus "short circuited" them and received a shock which caused death. Immediately upon being shocked each snake curled up in a hard knot, thus opening the circuit and setting the trap again.

Life in Virginia in 1648.
In the old days in this country farming and manufacturing were carried on together to a very large extent. A letter written from Virginia in 1648 gives the following picture of life on the plantation of a certain Captain Matthews, a leading citizen of the colony: "He hath a fine house and all things answerable to it. He sows yearly store of hemp and flax and causes it to be spun. He keeps weavers and hath a tan house, causes leather to be dressed, hath eight shoemakers employed in their trade, hath forty negro servants and brings them up to trades in his house. He yearly sows abundance of wheat, barley, etc. The wheat he selleth at 4 shillings the bushel. He kills store of beeves and sells them to victual the ships when they come thither. He hath abundance of kine, a brave dairy, swine great store and poultry."

The Barking Wolf.
The prairie wolf, the coyote of the Mexicans, is the American representative of the old world jackal. It is thirty-six to forty inches long, with a tail measuring sixteen to eighteen inches. Its color is usually a yellowish gray on the back and sides, with black cloudings. The under parts and inside of limbs are of a dirty white tint. The cry is a sort of snapping bark, and for this reason the animal is known as the barking wolf. It lives and breeds in burrows and has its young in April, often ten at a time. It hunts in packs and is very fleet.

Passing Counterfeits.
Johnny—Say, papa, passing counterfeit money is unlawful, isn't it? Papa—Yes, Johnny—Well, papa, if a man was walking along the street and saw a ten dollar counterfeit bill upon the sidewalk and did not pick it up wouldn't he be guilty of passing counterfeit money and couldn't he be arrested and put in jail? Papa—More likely the lunatic asylum. Now you may go to bed, my son.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Making It Personal.
"Did you ever long for death?" asked the soulful, dyspeptic young man of the practical young woman. It was the fourth long call he had made on her that week, and she was sleepy.
"Whose death do you mean?" she asked in a dry, discouraging tone.

Useless.
"Your wife has filed suit for divorce. Are you going to contest it?"
"No. It wouldn't do me any good. I've lost every argument I ever had with her."—Detroit Free Press.

Comforting Her.
Miss Wry—I have a picture in my mind of my future husband. Miss Gay—I bet it will never be developed.—Smart Set.

Beck's Narrow Escape.
David Beck, the celebrated portrait painter and pupil of Van Dyck, while travelling through Germany was suddenly taken ill and to all appearances died and was laid out a corpse. His servants, sitting around the bed, grieved heartily for the loss of so good a master and, as grief is thirsty, drank as heartily at the same time. One of them, becoming more befuddled than the rest, then addressed his companions thus: "Our master when alive was fond of his glass. Let us out of gratitude, then, give him one now he is dead." Assent was given. The head of the dead painter was raised up and some wine poured down or spilled about, the fragrance or spirit of which caused Beck to open his eyes, upon which the servant, who, being drunk, half forgetting his master was dead, forced down the remainder of the glass. The painter gradually revived and thus escaped a living interment.

CASA VERDUGO

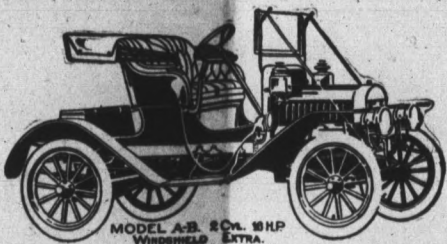

Mrs. Land, the postmistress, is trying to drop her official honors, but they persist in clinging to her although it is expected that her successor will take hold soon. Recently Mrs. Land tried to get permission to close the office on Sunday. She took a careful vote on the subject and out of 77 voters expressing themselves, 68 favored closing, and there were only seven opposed to it. Notwithstanding the smallness of the minority, numerically speaking, the department favored the few and the office keeps open as usual.

There has been unusual activity in real estate in the Casa-Verdugo sec-

CHARMING "AT HOME" AND WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Those who responded to the one hundred invitations issued by Mr. and Mrs. William Elmer Evans for an "at home" to be held in their dwelling at 113 Orange street were pleasantly surprised upon arriving to find that the occasion was also a celebration of the fifth wedding anniversary of the host and hostess. Decorations were most elaborate and especially effective. The receiving room was a bower of blossoms, composed of festoons of bridal wreaths and the very appropriate orange blossoms. Flower baskets filled to overflowing with white and yellow Lady Banksia roses were beautiful against a background of brown velvet. Throughout the evening Benubilla's orchestra, concealed by a bank of acacia blooms and bridal wreath, played the soft strains of various wedding marches. The dining room was delightful in its dainty decorations of bridal wreath and corymbis. Mrs. Mattison B. Jones presided at the table, and was graciously assisted in serving by Miss Anna Woodberry, Miss Edith Cutler, Miss Eleanor Richards, Miss May Richards and Miss Maybeth Pigg. Dainty refreshments suggestive of the nature of the evening were dispensed. Mr. and Mrs. Evans were assisted by Mrs. M. Ewell Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Phillips and Mr. and Mrs. John Robert White, Jr. The affair in every detail was one of the most pleasing and most important of the season's social events.

TROPICO

A full pound of nice letter paper at Nesom's Drug Store, 25c.

The Tropico meat market has been purchased by W. A. Chapman of Pomona, where he was identified with a prominent meat company.

John Lee Kirkham and wife, who for the past several months have been located on Central avenue, have moved to El Monte to reside permanently.

Rev. D. M. Stewart, formerly pastor of the Presbyterian church of this place, but now residing in San Diego, has been visiting friends at this place during the past few days.

Last Saturday evening the La Halla Temple of Pythias Sisters of this city gave a box social in the Knights of Pythias hall. Dancing was enjoyed during the evening. At a late hour the boxes were auctioned off and refreshments were enjoyed.

The regular monthly meeting of the Civic League of this city was held yesterday afternoon at the Tropico school house. The meeting was for "women only" and proved to be of unusual interest. The speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Calvin Hartwell of Pasadena.

The Parent-Teacher Association of this city will hold their regular meeting in the school house at 8 o'clock this evening. This meeting promises to be unusually important. Miss Bessie Stoddard and C. D. Ralid, superintendent of Los Angeles playgrounds will be the speakers of the evening.

A meeting of the Progressive Republicans of this city was held in the city hall Wednesday evening for the purpose of organizing a Roosevelt Club. The meeting was well attended and the organization was given a rousing start on a campaign which promises to be warm in this valley.

The Fraternal Brotherhood lodge of this place gave a leap year ball in the Knights of Pythias hall on San Fernando road Thursday evening. The affair was one of the finest ever given by this organization in this city, the feature of the event being the prize waltz.

The grading and oiling of Cypress street between Glendale and Central avenue has been completed and the street is now ready for the tamping machine. It looks as though there has been some let-up in the improvement work on Glendale avenue—probably on account of lack of material.

The Philatelic class of the Presbyterian Sunday school gave their much-advertised-measuring party in the church parlors Thursday evening. During the evening an excellent program, given by local talent, was rendered and refreshments were served. The girls were assisted in the affair by the Baraca class of the school.

Last Saturday evening the eighth grade of the Tropico grammar school was entertained by the members of the seventh grade of the same school at the home of Mrs. Stone on Brand boulevard. The affair proved unusually enjoyable and the home was decorated with many flowers and greenery.

The improvement work on Central avenue at its intersection with the San Fernando road is being rushed. This week the work of filling the place which was excavated with rock, was finished, and now everything is ready for the top coat of stone and concrete. For the past month traffic over this section of the road has been stopped, but it is hoped that it will be resumed within the coming two weeks.

Harold Story, formerly of this place, was the winner in the oratorical contest held last week to decide the championship of the Glendale high school. By winning in this event Harold was chosen to represent the Glendale high school in the finals of the Suburban Oratorical League, held in the Santa Ana high this (Friday) evening. Other schools to be represented are Long Beach, Huntington Beach, Pasadena, and Santa Ana.

AT THE TROPICO CITY HALL.

Daniel Webster and Dr. A. O. Conrad have been chosen to serve four years on the local board of trustees, while in the drawing, C. A. Bancroft, John Hobbs and Irving H. Oliver drew tags bearing the lowest sentence. C. A. Bancroft has been chosen president of the board, taking the place formerly occupied by C. C. Rittenhouse.

George C. Melrose, township justice, has been appointed recorder of this city for the next two years at a salary of $10 per month. It will be remembered that Mr. Melrose is the gentleman who offered, at the time of incorporation, to serve the city as its recorder during the first year of the city's life without pay and for the good of the city, but it will also be remembered, that his offer was turned down by the previous board of trustees. It appears as though Mr. Melrose had the welfare of Tropico much in mind when he accepted the position as recorder when it was offered to him this time. He did not apply for the office and accepted it only after it has been declared by the board as being vacant.

The following standing committees of the trustees have been appointed: Ordinance and Judiciary—Oliver, Webster, Hobbs. Finance committee—Hobbs, Oliver, Webster. Police and sanitary committee—Conrad, Oliver, Webster. Public works committee—Webster, Conrad, Oliver.

A report has been submitted by City Clerk Street which states that from March 17, 1911, to April 1, 1912, the expenditures of the city amounted to $6210.72, while the total receipts footed up something like $9063.50.

COLORS FLYING IN SAN JACINTO

Whole population surprised. Entire business district of San Jacinto aflame with flags, pennants and banners announcing the dawn of the new San Jacinto. Decoration takes place at night after closing hours. One feature of the display is an artistically colored banner, five feet wide and over fifty feet long, strung across the main street, bearing the words, "Welcome, San Jacinto Board of Trade." There are hundreds of pennants and flags fluttering from doorways and windows everywhere.

The recent water discovery and development at the foot of Mt. San Jacinto, near by, has aroused the whole country around. The great beauty and rare fertility of the valley dates back to the government's first geological survey, but like many of the sections of the country in times gone by, the scarcity of water prevented its full development. The new water condition, however, has changed the entire situation. High-class farming in all of its branches is now possible upon every foot of these particularly choice lands.

It is this valley's turn now, and it will be interesting to watch it. In the past few months, with its thrill and flip-flops, are any criterion to go by. San Jacinto will give an account of itself that will not soon be forgotten.

The new resort hotel being erected by Mr. Vosburg, on Central avenue, is going up rapidly. According to contract, it must be completed in one hundred days from date of beginning work.

The new electric light and power system, which circulates through the whole valley, has just been completed. The current will be turned on the first of the coming month.

Mr. Knowlton's foreman says he expects to get two tons of alfalfa per acre at each of the seven cuttings this season from his hundred-acre ranch on Mountain avenue. Two hundred tons per single cutting would mean 1400 tons for the season, or $28,000 for the crop, if the present price of $20.00 is maintained. These figures would no doubt make the back East farmer dizzy, but to the Californian rancher it means only an average production where anything like correct methods are employed.

ILLINOIS PICNIC.

The Illinois Society gives a picnic in the Wild Animal Farm at Eastlake Park Saturday next. It will be a basket lunch affair, and a program of entertainment will follow at one o'clock.

The county of Los Angeles contains two congressional districts, eight senatorial districts, 15 assembly districts, five supervisorial districts, 33 judicial townships, 30 incorporated cities and 727 election precincts.
